Milliman Receives Top Honors in InsuranceERM Americas Awards 2024

Comprehensive Cloud-Based Actuarial Modeling and Reporting Solution Recognized for Excellence as “Actuarial Modelling Solution of the Year” and “ALM Solution of the Year”

SEATTLE – JUNE 17, 2024 – Milliman, Inc., a leading global consulting and actuarial firm, is delighted to announce that it has taken top honors in two categories in the InsuranceERM Americas Awards 2024 for its comprehensive cloud-based actuarial modeling and reporting solution, Milliman Integrate®.

The InsuranceERM Americas Awards celebrate outstanding risk management, actuarial, and risk modeling practices, as well as recognize top service and technology providers across the Americas.

Integrate has been thoughtfully designed to provide a seamless, automated, and rigorously governed process for actuarial modeling and reporting. By centralizing data, modeling, and reporting, actuaries can enhance efficiency and concentrate on high-value business analyses. Through collaboration between consultants and product specialists, Integrate has delivered significant actuarial modelling and reporting value to Milliman clients.

Tom Peplow, Milliman principal and director of product development said, “Our consultants leverage Integrate for innovative work that helps (re)insurers make better strategic decisions. This work relies on our product professionals driving the tools forward to support innovation. Ultimately, our Integrate clients benefit from the creativity of both our consultants and product specialists.”

Given the evolving landscape of asset and liability management (ALM) within insurers, Integrate stands out with its innovative technology. Integrate’s subject matter experts collaborate closely with clients, ensuring a powerful synergy between cutting-edge tools and industry expertise.

Valea Coyne, Milliman consultant said, "Milliman's Asset-Liability Management (ALM) functionality has been a game-changer across the Americas, offering a three-pronged approach to address the unique needs of re/insurers throughout the region, from the specialized Bermudian market to the broader landscape of North, Central, and South America."

Integrate is a trademark of Milliman, Inc., registered in the U.S., U.K. and France.
